If you receive an error message like the one shown below.   This issue may be caused by the Data Execution Protection in Windows Vista.
To resolve this issue you will need to add the ShopFactory program to your list of excepted programs.
I have included the steps to take in Windows Vista to add ShopFactory to the list of Excepted programs.
1. Click on the Start Menu and select Control panel.
2. From the Control panel double click on System.
3. In the System Control panel Click on the system protection button at the left of the screen.
4. Click on the advanced tab in system protection dialog window.
5. Under the performance heading click on the settings button.
6. In the settings Dialog window click on the Data tab. 7. In the Data Execution Prevention add SFEditorU.exe to the exclusion list. Alternatively you can turn off the Data Execution Prevention.
