

I have a GlobeCharge account, but how do I accept credi...

Author:
ShopFactory

Created On: 14 May 2007 12:00 AM

---

To process credit card payments you must have a merchant account that allows you to process credit card transactions. This can be an account with your bank where they give you your own merchant terminal (physical or virtual) or you must have a merchant account with any one of our integrated payment processors. Otherwise you cannot process credit cards. Integrated Payment Providers The advantages of having a GlobeCharge account (Online Order Management)

- » all your orders are stored securely online on our server and can be accessed from any computer with an internet connection, anywhere in the world.

- » you will never lose your orders in email due to SPAM filters and so on.
- » you can also use a combination of manual and automated payments
- » GlobeCharge allows you to access a larger number of integrated payment providers, compared with those directly integrated with ShopFactory