Tax and shipping rates are applied to specific regions and ShopFactory calculates tax and shipping costs based on the &ldquo;Customer location detection&rdquo; setting. ShopFactory also preselects the language in the shop according to the customer location as well.

If you want to show the shop&rsquo;s default language and show prices & taxes based on the shop location instead, you will need to turn off &ldquo;Customer Location detection&rdquo; option by following the steps outlined below:

- » Open shop in ShopFactory
  - » Click SETTINGS menu -> Global Settings -> Settings for this website -> MISCELLANEOUS
  - » Untick &ldquo;Customer location detection&rdquo; checkbox if you want the prices and shipping to show based on shop location first
  - » Untick &ldquo;Automatic customer language detection&rdquo; checkbox if you want to show your website in the default language first &ndash; buyer can switch to their own language once they change the language from the language dropdown bar.
- » Click OK
  - » Save and preview shop
  - » Publish your shop so that changes are uploaded online.
